

Intern (Haunted Walks Inc.)

Have a passion for offbeat history and don't want to settle for a boring job this summer? Then intern for The Haunted Walk! We are looking for a self-motivated, independent and ambitious individual to join our research and marketing team. You will have the chance to conduct historical research, pull on threads and follow your instincts as you explore unusual, intriguing, and dark history (local and national). Together as a team, we will decide the most effective way to present the best of this material to the public.

Could it be a new story on one of our tours? A blog or social media post? A video? A podcast episode? An interview? Depending on your skill set and interests, you may be the one writing up these posts or even be in front of the camera.

We want this experience to be very hands-on as so few have the opportunity to work in and learn from a for-profit heritage business. If you are a fan of The Haunted Walk, Andrew King's great blog "Ottawa Rewind", or "Lost Ottawa", this is a position you will absolutely love. Hope you will join us for a spook-tacular summer!

Start date: Monday, June 24, 2019.

End date: Friday, August 23, 2019.

Compensation: $4,080 for the duration of the work term at 30 hours per week.

Terms

To be eligible for this opportunity, you must apply through the Capital Heritage Mentorship Program.

Apply before March 29, 2019.

This program is made possible by a generous grant from the Ottawa Community Foundation.